Senator Gets Ovation At Governors' Parley

Goldwater Confident Eisenhower Won't Upset Bid For Nomination

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater left the 56th annual Governors Conference feeling confident that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will not upset his bid for the GOP presidential nomination.

The silver-haired senator said in an interview Monday night that he is convinced the former president—about the only man who could do so—would not interfere in Goldwater's headlong rush toward the 655 delegate votes needed for the nomination.

Goldwater, given an ovation on his arrival at a conference dinner, stayed to hear Eisenhower speak. He talked briefly with Eisenhower and other party leaders while table-hopping, then flew back to Washington for action on the civil rights bill amendments.

"I think President Eisenhower is neutral in this situation as he has been in the past," Goldwater said. "I do not think he has changed his position and I do not expect him to take any action that would be aimed at blocking me."

Goldwater said that in the absence of any expressed opposition from Eisenhower he is confident he will get the nomination at the mid-July San Francisco convention. He added that he thinks he has a good chance of defeating President Johnson in November.

"Wait until the people begin to assess Johnson's stand on this civil rights question and come to realize that his spending policies are out of line," the senator said. "Then we'll see whether we Republicans can beat him."

A REPUBLICAN CHAT was held by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and former President Dwight Eisenhower at the annual governors conference at Cleveland Monday. (UPI Telephoto)

In a brief appearance as a conference guest, Goldwater avoided any conferences with Republican governors who have been complaining that his conservative views would make it difficult for him to carry their states as the GOP nominee.

Specifically, he did not make himself available for discussions with Govs. George Romney of Michigan, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A.

Rockefeller of New York. All three have said that Goldwater's positions on foreign and domestic policies would damage the Republican ticket in their important electoral vote states.

Goldwater indicated that his conference with Eisenhower did not get deeply into politics. He said the former president did not bring up political matters and he himself didn't volunteer any observations in that field.

"We talked mostly about golf and how to get rid of the bursitis that has been bothering him," the senator said.

Eisenhower, who urged the governors to get behind a movement for the states to originate a constitutional amendment requiring balancing of the federal budget every two years, conferred with 15 of the 16 Republican governors on the political situation. Romney missed the meeting but flew in later.

Rejection Of 2 Offers Seen

Bids On St. Clair Project Exceed State's Estimates

Two construction companies filed bids today with the State Highway Department at Columbus for rebuilding of outer St. Clair Ave., but both were over the state's estimate and officials indicated the offers will be rejected and new bids will be sought.

HERMAN BROTHERS, Inc., of Youngstown bid $797,788, or $32,188 over the state's estimate of $765,600 for the actual construction.

Smith Construction Co. of Ohio at Vienna bid $859,749, which was $94,149 over the state's estimate.

The overall estimate for the job, including right-of-way, is $848,780. The city's share is based on the overall cost.

A State Highway Department spokesman said there is almost no doubt both bids will be rejected and the project will be advertised again.

It probably will be included in the state's next bid opening session on June 23.

THE PROJECT calls for construction of three lanes of reinforced concrete from Princeton Ave. to the north city limits, along with a complete drainage system. The new pavement would be 36 feet wide.

East Liverpool has sought the project more than four years—since early 1960.

Approximately half the cost will be paid by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. The aid was assured when the agency placed the St. Clair stretch on the list of federal aid secondary highways in mid-1961.

Although the State Highway Department is acting as agent in the project, no state funds are invested.

52 In Midland Faculty Voted Salary Raises

Board Adopts New Schedule To Cost Total Of $24,600

A new salary schedule of pay increases totaling $24,600 for 52 professional employees was adopted by the Midland Board of Education at a meeting Monday night at the high school.

The minimum salary is raised from $4,200 to $4,500 and the maximum for those with certificates from $6,200 to $6,800, for those with bachelor's degrees from $6,800 to $7,600 and with master's degrees from $7,400 to $8,200.

The pay increases and adjustments were provided in the tentative budget of $801,914 proposed by the board at its meeting May 26.

Miss Bernice Coffin, secretary, and Edward Cilli, president, were authorized to negotiate a bank loan in the amount of $35,000 to pay current expenses and to tide the board over until it receives tax receipts.

In other action, the board awarded contracts for the 1964-65 school year for general supplies in the amount of $4,209.45, for science supplies and equipment for $2,169.59 and for industrial art supplies for $1,629.59.

The Ellis Office Equipment Co. of Beaver Falls was awarded a contract for cleaning and servicing typewriters at $4.75 each for manual and $15 for electric, plus parts at cost.

The board authorized a six-week summer band program, and named Thaddeus Wawro, band director, as instructor at a salary of $75 per week.

A nine-week summer playground program was also approved. (Turn to MIDLAND, Page 2)

Administration Defeat

Rights Amendment On Trials Adopted In Vote By Senate

Might Help Get Action On Cloture

Proposal Tied To Criminal Contempt Except In Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted today an amendment to the civil rights bill guaranteeing jury trials in all criminal contempt cases arising from the measure, except in voting rights cases.

The Senate action was a defeat for administration forces, but one which Senate leaders had somewhat discounted in advance. It may help them get cloture Wednesday, to end the Southern filibuster against the bill, by nailing down more Republican votes for the debate-limiting procedure.

In advance of the test, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he is "cautiously optimistic" that the Senate will vote for cloture.

Mansfield made this report to President Johnson at the weekly White House breakfast of Democratic congressional leaders.

"We believe that reasonable men are now ready to vote," Mansfield said.

The jury trial amendment was offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and was supported by Southerners, who have been fighting the bill for 74 days.

It was the Senate's first vote in relation to the bill since May 6.

Later in the day it was to debate and act on an amendment by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, dealing with school desegregation, and one by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., dealing with discrimination in employment.

Wallace Sees Repeal If Rights Bill Passes

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says that if the civil rights bill is enacted, "it will be repealed in two to four years."

"I'm not advocating disobedience of any law," Wallace said in an interview. "But people North and South, are going to resent and resist this. It will take a police state to enforce it."

"It's a severe attack on private property and free enterprise, and when people realize this the law will be repealed in two to four years."

2 Shot At Midland; Man, Grandson Held

A Midland man and his grandson are being held in connection with the wounding of a neighbor and his son as the climax of a neighborhood fracas Monday afternoon.

John W. Price, 53, of 344 Ohio Ave., Midland, was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with birdshot wounds of the left side of the face, and his son, Melvin Price, 14, was treated for wounds of the chest and upper arm from a .22 rifle.

Clifford Edwards, 356 Ohio Ave., Midland, is in Midland jail and his grandson, William Edwards, 17, is in custody of juvenile authorities, both charged with assault with intent to kill.

The shooting followed a quarrel between Price and Edwards in which the youths joined yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of their homes.

Dams, Bridges Swept Away

8 Die, Hundreds Isolated As Floods Strike Montana

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Floods described as the worst in memory swept out of Montana's northwestern mountains Monday, killing at least eight persons, sweeping away dams and bridges and leaving hundreds of residents isolated. Rain pelted the area for the fifth straight day.

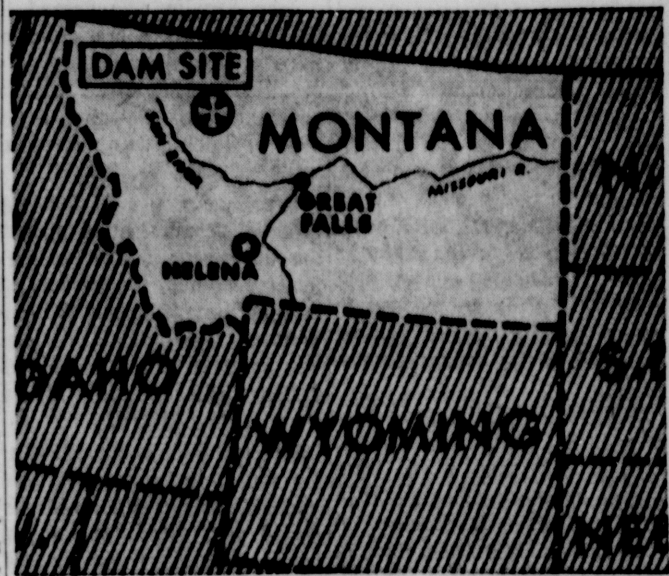

Authorities said the death toll included five members of one Blackfoot Indian family.

A girl was reported drowned in Valier, on the Indian reservation, and two motorists were killed when their vehicles plunged into raging streams.

In Glacier National Park, more than 200 persons were reported cut off by flooded roads or washed-out bridges. Many were park employees preparing for the summer tourist season.

Col. Howard McKinney of the Montana National Guard said the floods were the greatest

Kubitschek Purge

Political Strife Threatens Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—New political turmoil threatened Brazil today because of the purge of Juscelino Kubitschek, banned from politics for 10 years to keep him from getting the presidency again.

President Humberto Castello Branco signed a decree ousting Kubitschek from his Senate seat and removing the political rights of the powerful political leader who had been the leading contender for the presidency in October 1965.

The suave former society surgeon joined more than 200 persons whose political rights have been suspended since President Joao Goulart and his leftist regime were overthrown April 1. Former Presidents Goulart and Janio Quadros, who resigned in August 1961, also have lost political rights.

"My enemies fear me because they are afraid of the manifestation of the people," said Kubitschek, "and thus with this brutal act they (the government) remove me from the road of elections—which are the only valid manifestation in a truly democratic regime."

The ouster could prompt Kubitschek's Social Democratic party, largest in Brazil, to withdraw support from Castello Branco's government. A party spokesman said party leaders would meet to decide on a course of action.

Several thousand supporters massed outside Kubitschek's apartment house in Rio Monday night, singing the national anthem and cheering the former president. They carried him through the streets on their shoulders.

A clash threatened when followers of Kubitschek's old foe Carlos Lacerda, governor of Guanabara State and a rival presidential candidate, arrived and began jeering. They dispersed when the Kubitschek crowd continued to grow.

Kubitschek came to prominence as governor of Minas Gerais State during the final term of Getulio Vargas, who committed suicide in August 1954.

Wife's Letter Of 'Romance' Cited At Trial

Hancock Jury Sees Murder Scene Then Hears Testimony

NEW CUMBERLAND — Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr put Dr. Michael Sulka, Weirton pathologist, and State Policeman J. N. Morrison on the stand today as the murder trial of Robert M. Young, 34, continued in Hancock County Circuit Court.

The jury of 10 men and two women visited the scene of the slaying of George Merckich and heard opening arguments Monday afternoon.

Young, former employee of Weirton Steel Co., is accused of shooting Merckich three times Aug. 3 with a high-powered rifle.

In opening statements, Prosecutor Tarr said he will attempt to prove that Young intercepted a letter from his wife, Donna, to Merckich, declaring the letter indicated a "romance" between the two.

He said he will attempt to prove that Young decided to kill Merckich after Mrs. Young refused to give her husband "guarantees." He will attempt to prove, the prosecutor said that Young put his 32-caliber rifle in the rear seat of his car, drove to the Merckich home, called the neighbor to the front door, and shot him, after a brief conversation over the letter.

Atty. Frank A. Pietranton, representing the defendant, said he will base his case on "temporary insanity," declaring he will attempt to prove that Young "blacked out" before the shooting until Aug. 6, when he was given a preliminary hearing.

Atty. Pietranton explained at length Young's background, declaring the defendant is a "hard worker" with six children at home, ages 6 to 14.

In 1960, Atty. Pietranton said Young entered into a partnership with Merckich to restore some abandoned oil wells.

On Aug. 2, the day before the shooting, Young had worked at the steel mills and returned home tired and fatigued.

Next day, Young returned home from work still tired, Atty. Pietranton said, and asked (Turn to TRIAL, Page 2)

Reds In Laos Capture U.S. Navy Pilot

VIENTIANE, Los (AP)—The Communist Pathet Lao was reported today to have captured a U.S. Navy jet pilot shot down on a photo-reconnaissance mission over the jungles of central Laos.

Reliable sources said the Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay informed its officials in Vientiane of the capture of Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, 30, of San Diego, Calif., who had parachuted from his Crusader jet fighter on Saturday.

Pathet Lao officials in Vientiane declined to confirm the report. An air search continued for Klusmann.

A U.S. helicopter rescued Cmdr. Doyle W. Lynn of La Mesa, Calif., Monday and flew him back to the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk in the South China Sea. Lynn's Crusader was hit Sunday while he was escorting a reconnaissance mission.

The Pathet Lao has held another American flier, a civilian, for nine months.

Eugene Debruin of Kaukauna, Wis., a flier for the Air America charter company, was captured last September when his transport plane was shot down in southern Laos.

Neutralist Laotian forces were believed slowly pulling out of a hill position northwest of the Plaine des Jarres region under Communist artillery and mortar fire.

A high neutralist military source said his troops were still holding sections of the high ground around Phou Koutt,

Tax Deadline May Be Later Extension Sought By Commissioners

LISBON — County commissioners Monday requested an extension from June 20 until July 15 in the deadline for collection of county real estate taxes for the first half of 1964.

The commissioners' request will be given to the State Tax Commission. They explained that the collection deadline falls on Dec. 20 for the first half taxes and on June 20 for the second half. Commissioners have authority to seek a 30-day extension. If another is needed, Treasurer Vincent C. Judge may file a request.

In making the request, commissioners said an extension is necessary because collection of second half taxes for 1963 will not have started before the June date.

Commissioners decided to seek bids on a new bailer, spreader and conveyor elevator for the County Home, replacing machinery destroyed in a fire that leveled a big cattle barn. The board also awarded a $668 contract to Lisbon Enterprises Co. for cleanup work at the fire site. The only other bid of $724 was filed by the Rose Excavating Co. also of Lisbon. Work is expected to start immediately.

A $300 slag grant was given Wayne Township Trustees. Next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

President's Building Up Delegate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has been quietly piling up Democratic delegate votes while the political spotlight focused on the Republican presidential nomination race. He already has more than half the number needed for his expected nomination.

The President now has 671 first-ballot votes stemming from primaries, state convention actions or personally stated preference, an Associated Press survey showed today.

This is about 58 per cent of the 1,158 votes required for the nomination at the Democratic convention in Atlantic City in August.

There has been little doubt that Johnson—although he has not yet announced his candidacy—will win the nomination on the first ballot, perhaps by acclamation.

The only avowed candidate, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, has 38 first-ballot votes—all from Alabama. He might draw scattered support from other Southern delegations which so far have listed themselves as uncommitted. These include South Carolina and Louisiana. The Mississippi delegation has not been chosen yet.

Unlike the Republicans, who follow a one-man, one-vote policy, the Democrats will have many more delegates than the 2,316 votes authorized for their convention. Some delegates will have one-half of a vote and in a few cases they'll have one-third of a vote.

125 Honor Dr. A. S. Fisher During Dinner And Program

A crowd of 125 turned out last Sunday night at an event in tribute to Dr. Alexander S. Fisher for service to the community and to the economic up-building of the state of Israel. The dinner event, which was held at Beth Shalom Congregation, was sponsored by the East Liverpool - Midland - Chester Israel Bond Committee.

Dr. Fisher was the recipient of the Israel Commendation Award, highest citation of the National Israel Bond Organization, for his "many years of devoted and effective leadership as chairman of the Israel Bond Committee in this area".

The address was delivered by Chief G. Patrick Kunambi, Sultan of Uluguru, Tanganyika, East Africa. He is chief of the Waluguru Tribe, numbering 300,000.

The sultan stressed the close ties between his country and Israel and expressed his gratitude and that of his people for the economic methods learned through the co-operation of Israel. In recent years, he said, Israel has sent teams of technicians to Tanganyika to teach road - building, carpentry, masonry, agriculture, and many other trades.

In turn, Tanganyika has sent representatives to study and work in Israel, in order to gain on-the-scene experience in the latest and most productive means of economic improvement.

Co-chairmen of the celebration were Martin Gluchow, Mrs. Ben Feldman and Sam Caplan. During the evening they pointed out that Dr. Fisher's "devotion to humanity deserves recognition, and we are here tonight to express our appreciation in a concrete way, through our participation in the Israel Bond drive."

Turning to the economic progress of the state of Israel, the co-chairmen emphasized that, with the aid of Israel Bonds, "the people of Israel have established a dynamic economy in an underdeveloped land, exploited its limited natural resources of oil, copper and phosphates, built new rural villages and large urban centers, established universities and scientific institutes and set up the social and political machinery that has made Israel the most stable democracy in the entire Middle East."

Congratulatory telegrams from civic and communal leaders here and elsewhere were received by Dr. Fisher, who stated that the event was "the most moving and heartwarming tribute I can recall. This will be an evening I will long remember."

"The favorable response which the Israel Bond campaign has received as a result of this gathering is a meaningful fulfillment of the efforts we have all expended toward the attainment of Israel's ultimate goal of economic independence," he said.

Two-Party System In Space

A more than ordinarily interesting example of the two-party system's ideal function is an attack on the National Aviation and Space Agency for disregarding the safety of astronauts in its haste to put men on the moon.

Here is the raw material of political attack and defense. The Johnson administration, if continued in office, will be responsible for the decision to speed up or slow down the project to reach the moon. A special report of the House of Representatives Republican Conference says the project should be slowed down to needless danger.

NASA, which is of politics though not necessarily in politics, must offer a defense against this charge, as must the Johnson administration if the issue develops during the 1964 campaign. The only plausible defense is proof that no unnecessary risks are contemplated—which would be impossible to prove, of course, because a lunar project itself is an unnecessary risk.

Whether it was being carried out under a Democratic or a Republican administration, a moon shot could not possibly be described as a dire necessity that made attendant risks necessary.

But if a moon shot is to be justified, the administration responsible must be able to say that every safeguard was used, thus guaranteeing that astronauts will be given maximum protection.

This is the ideal function of the two-party system—this process of criticism and defense that goes on endlessly for the protection of the people.

Maybe the Southern senators will not be so unhappy, after all, if a cloture motion to close debate in the Senate is approved by a two-thirds vote this week. It could, of course, hasten final action on the civil rights bill because the proponents are sure of a 51 per cent David Lawrence majority to pass the measure itself.

The sooner the bill is enacted, however, the quicker will the nationwide reaction to its enforcement set in and the sooner will come the public demands for repeal or substantial amendment of the law.

The moment the actual enforcement of such a far-reaching civil rights measure starts, there will be general concern from coast to coast due to a variety of reasons.

First, there will be in Congress a controversy as to how much money should be appropriated to augment considerably the federal police force as well as the legal staff of the Department of Justice.

Second, many lawsuits will be filed on every side, not only by the government but by private parties. The government, to be sure, will have the right to intervene in many of the latter cases.

Thus, for example, the owner of a rooming house which will be pressed into a policy of integration with respect to admission of guests may challenge the constitutionality of the new law on the ground that it does not apply equally to all rooming houses.

THOSE WITH less than five rooms to rent are to be exempted from its provisions.

Since the Constitution provides that all citizens are entitled to "the equal protection of the laws," it seems certain that some lawsuits will be filed which will insist that, if it is constitutional for rooming houses with five rooms or less to discriminate in choosing customers, it is also constitutional for any such place to do so when it caters to guests who occupy more than five rooms.

The same principle of authorized discrimination by reason of race or color or religion or sex applies in connection with the equal-employment sections of the bill.

The provisions of the proposed law would give the federal government, under the guise of searching for discriminatory actions, the power, in effect, to control employment practices in various businesses. It will be up to the Department of Justice to prove in suits before the Supreme Court just why it is supposed to be constitutional to permit discrimination in a business with less than 100 employees and yet forbid discrimination in a business where there are more than 100 employees.

MANY PERSONS, when denied jobs, will argue, moreover, that discrimination was the basis for refusal to grant them employment and some of these individuals will seek redress on constitutional grounds no matter whether the exempted quota as finally written in the bill is based on a scale varying from 25 to 100 employees over the next four-year period or whether specific quota of 100 is set.

Nearly every company will have to start keeping careful records on job applications, promotions and transfers. Personnel departments will be subject to investigation by federal agents and there probably will be lawsuits brought not merely where discrimination against Negroes is alleged but where there may be claims of discrimination against whites.

The general hope in Washington has been that enactment of the pending bill would end street demonstrations. There will, of course, be an appeal by the administration to the Negro leaders to stop the demonstrations and give the law-enforcement machinery a chance to function.

There may be new controversies. While several states, for instance, have their own civil rights laws, some of these statutes do not go as far as the bill pending in the Senate.

IF ISSUES growing out of the enforcement problem become a matter of public agitation during the summer and autumn months, this could have an effect upon the national campaign, especially in certain congressional districts and states where members of Congress have voted for the civil rights legislation and now may have to face a protest vote at the polls.

While the Republicans, in their national party platform, will join the Democrats in affirming the principles behind a new civil rights law, there seems no doubt that the Republican presidential nominee, whoever he is, will be pointing to certain flaws in the legislation, hoping thereby to get the benefit of the protest vote on the measure as a whole.

The substantial vote given Gov. Wallace of Alabama in the Democratic primaries in several Northern states recently could prove to have been the forerunner of a crossover vote to the Republican party.

The sooner, therefore, the civil rights bill becomes law, the more time there will be for the negative sentiment to be aroused and for its influence to be exerted when the presidential and congressional elections are held in November.

Reaction Due From Civil Rights Bill

The sooner the bill is enacted, however, the quicker will the nationwide reaction to its enforcement set in and the sooner will come the public demands for repeal or substantial amendment of the law.

Labor Leaders Fashion Anti-Goldwater Drive

By VICTOR RIESEL

Labor's political analysts are predicting now that Barry Goldwater will fall 100 votes short of nomination at the Republican National Convention. But the union chiefs, being hard-headed realists, realize their wish may be "father to that thought." So they are gearing up a massive campaign machine to do him battle in virtually all of the nation's 175,000 precincts.

Thus, if the senator is nominated, he will become the first candidate for the U.S. presidency in modern times to be completely boycotted by the country's labor leaders and the first willing to challenge the union leadership without wailing.

If we delimit "modern times" at Calvin Coolidge—40 years ago—we find that both he and Herbert Hoover had strong labor backing in John L. Lewis. The latter often said he had greater entree to the White House under them than during the first years of Franklin D. Roosevelt whom the miners did not endorse until 1936.

THAT YEAR Alf Landon had a Republican labor committee campaigning for him under the Carpenters' "big" Bill Hutcheson. In 1940 Mr. Lewis swung to Wendell Willkie. Four years later—and again in 1948—Tom Dewey had scores of unions behind him.

Dwight Eisenhower always had contact with liberal labor leaders, including the CIO's Sidney Hillman, who launched the CIO's Political Action Committee and was the first to boom "Ike for President."

In '48 labor chiefs, including Walter Reuther, wanted Mr. Eisenhower to run for president on the Democratic ticket. Finally, Dick Nixon had cordial relations with many union men, including the Steelworkers' president Dave McDonald. During the '60 campaign he had labor support stretching from New York to Hawaii.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL differences between Goldwater and the labor leaders are vast and were widened by the California primary. They threw considerable weight into the drive to stop him in California.

The National Labor Committee for Rockefeller, operating out of New York City, sent 87,000 pieces of literature into the state in the final weeks of the primary campaign. At the end, as many as 6,000 pieces a day were being mailed to labor men from the committee headquarters in the Hotel Roosevelt.

During the last week in May, the committee chairman, Lee Minton, himself an AFL-CIO vice president, sent telegrams to all national union presidents urging them to stir their California locals into action against Goldwater. And action there was. Joe Moreschi, veteran head of the Hod Carriers and Common Laborers, replied that he was alerting his locals.

The building and construction trades organizations worked militantly for the New York governor. A strong section of the Carpenters' Union in Los Angeles reported it was fighting Goldwater hard. Dave Sullivan's Building Service Employees' Union sent word that it was papering apartment houses with "Rocky's" literature and elevator men were electioneering everywhere on the job.

AT THE LAST minute the labor committee sent special wires to 400 selected union officials in the San Francisco Bay area. Not the least part of the Rockefeller labor campaign was visual—12,000 2x4-foot posters for union day rooms, as well as several score of movie and slide projectors.

There were other unions in the fight and other publicity media such as radio programs paid for by the labor men. All this went into what was more than an effort to get the unionists who were registered Republicans to vote against Goldwater.

Democratic union chiefs and even some elements of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) were in the fray, campaigning against Goldwater, among Republicans with no union affiliations.

The pattern was similar to that which won for Rockefeller in Oregon. One labor official said at the time of the primary there: "We had the state covered like an umbrella for Rocky."

IT CAN BE expected that the labor people will be active against Barry Goldwater at the GOP national convention in San Francisco. This effort will begin during the second week in July, when AFL-CIO President George Meany offers labor's suggestions to the convention platform committee.

Much of the labor program of the Goldwater people will reject. Never before has the issue been clearer. This does not appear to worry the Arizona senator. He's eager for the showdown. So are the labor chiefs.

Pentagon Interview

By Laurence Barrett

The Defense Department has issued a new directive imposing new bureaucratic goo on press interviews but the Pentagon's motives are pure.

We know that altruism and concern for an educated citizenry impelled Assistant Secretary Arthur Sylvester to write his new order. We know this because Mr. Sylvester tells us so. Right there in the order he says its purpose is to "keep the secretary of defense properly informed as to whether there is a broad and continuous flow of information from the Department of Defense to the public, particularly through the media representatives."

It would be churlish to suggest that Mr. Sylvester and his boss, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, could find out what the papers are printing by reading them. The way they're going to keep Mr. McNamara informed on how well reporters are keeping the public informed is to have the military services furnish a weekly report to Mr. Sylvester.

Actually, the order issued May 18 and disclosed with exemplary promptness 10 days later is only the latest in a series that started in October, 1962.

It's logical to expect that there will be future embellishments of Pentagon press policy. It is not difficult to visualize a typical interview, say a year from now. Present are Jack Scoop, "media representative," Gen. Burley Guy, a three-star with a future and Col. Bright-fellow Wary, Press Information Office.

Scoop (displaying his Pentagon identity card with photograph and fingerprints, his Pentagon building pass with photograph and his privilege card for the barbershop and dining room): Welcome back from Viet Nam, general. I thought I might ask you about your tour over there and . . .

Wary: Wait a minute. How about your credentials?

Scoop: Here are my identity card, my building pass and my privilege card. Won't they do?

Wary: The new regulations call for a media representative badge to be worn adjacent to and three inches from the left lapel by the interviewer so that the interviewee will remember he's talking to the enemy.

Scoop: I'm sorry. I forgot.

Wary: All right, we'll waive the requirement. Just strap yourself into the lie detector. . .

Scoop: Now that I'm strapped in, about Viet Nam?

Guy: Actually, there's not much I can. . .

Wary: Wait a minute. I've got seven more columns to fill in. Scoop, what's your wife's maiden name?

Scoop: I'm single.

Wary: All right, your girl friend's name then.

Scoop: Constance Schwartzbart. Now, about Laos. . .

Wary: Hold on. You didn't list Laos among your subject(s).

Guy: As a matter of fact, I'm very familiar with. . .

Wary: That's not the point. I've already programmed this through the computer.

Scoop: Who'll know the difference?

Wary: Have you forgotten we're in a new interview chamber?

Scoop: Bugged?

Wary: (nodding his head vigorously): What a dreadful thing to say! Of course not.

Scoop: I give up.

Guy (as the trio leaves): Say, Jack, I hope you can get a squib in the paper about my wife. She's just been made chairman of the rummage sale.

They Never Appreciate Us

Americans winced and their necks reddened last week when a Frenchman, President Charles de Gaulle, and a Briton, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, went out of their way to show ingratitude for the U.S. contribution in World War II.

This kind of snubbing and discourtesy cannot be called surprising; it is standard procedure, like the wincing and the anger that ensue whenever De Gaulle cold-shoulders the United States or Montgomery renews his personal feud with Dwight D. Eisenhower.

It would help if Americans could get rid of the idea that their country was seeking gratitude for entering World War II and joining France and Britain as a member of the Western Allies.

The United States was forced into World War II by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and by declarations of war against it by Germany and Italy.

It was fighting for survival. It was helping itself when it helped its allies. There was no altruism involved. Its aim was to keep the war at a distance — to supply Russia with enough material to sustain large-scale action on an eastern front against Germany while joining the British in large-scale action on the western front and simultaneously holding off the Japanese and eventually driving them back to Japan in the Pacific theater.

Gratitude was no consideration. There has been a great deal of it, nevertheless, even among Americans who realize what it meant to have Britain as a buffer state between them and an aggressor Germany in two World Wars in this century.

But gratitude isn't what Americans sought when they fought. They fought because they were attacked. They fought to survive.

Tom Fawcett's Village

There is little doubt that the present site of downtown East Liverpool, among the few low-lying flatlands along the Ohio River in the district, would have been among the earliest settlements of Ohio.

It was the middle-aged Irishman who in 1796 with his sons, cleared a tract, erected a log house, built a flour mill and founded the village which in time became the community of today.

Thursday will be the birthday anniversary of Thomas Fawcett who was born June 11, 1747, in Ireland, and who came to this area after residing some time at Chartiers Creek near Pittsburgh.

First called "St. Clair" and later "Fawcettstown," the town did not achieve any significance until the earthenware industry was developed and East Liverpool gained the title of the Pottery Center of the World.

The city is no longer the pottery center of the world. But it is a lot more than easy-going Tom Fawcett ever thought it would be — the commercial and economic hub of the immediate Tri-State area whose future, just as Fawcettstown's once did, depends upon the river, the roads to the district and the natural development of the surrounding three counties.

The Jobless

Statistics for jobs and joblessness in May were heartening, as they usually are when summer comes. Jobs hit a new high of 71.1 million and joblessness tapered off to 5.1 per cent of the total labor force — down three-tenths of one per cent from the plateau it had been on for the last few months.

But don't expect a similarly encouraging report when June statistics are issued a month from now. In June, new college graduates and college undergraduates go looking for jobs. Undergraduates are looking for summer jobs. Graduates are looking for summer jobs, too, in some cases, because they intend to go to graduate school.

Graduates, undergraduates, men, women, boys, girls, housewives, students, unemployables, employables — all are lumped together and described as "jobless" if looking for work and not finding it. Along with them are the bona fide "jobless" — heads of families who are looking for steady jobs because they must have them to keep themselves and their families.

Gratitude

At this time, a few acknowledgments. I want to thank Pearl Bailey and Dinah Shore for their singing;

Danny Kaye for his genius as an entertainer;

Bill Cosby for adding a new dimension to stand-up monology;

Sports Illustrated for a rationale on auto racing, which calls for philosophy as well as skill in operating a racing car;

Ministers who testified on the touchy prayer issue for explaining why they do not think praying should be put into the careless hands of politically constituted authority;

The people who write "Speaking Out" pieces for Saturday Evening Post and the good old Post for thinking up such a fine idea;

The vagaries of precipitation for restoring faith in the probabilities of precipitation that have given this part of the country its reputation for beauty and greenery;

HAIR STYLISTS who have mastered the art of making even the plainest females look attractive, as far as their hair is concerned;

Tobaccoists whose skill has made pipe-smoking enjoyable for every taste, thanks to an infinite variety of blends;

Doctors and dentists who make complex diagnoses seem easy and obvious by applying their accumulated experience to their patients' problems;

The realization by traffic engineers that overhead signs are the only ones that can be seen properly by motorists on multi-lane highways;

The textile industry for giving long-suffering mankind new fabrics suitable for warm weather.

This only begins to suggest the diversity of my gratitude, which is far-reaching and sincere, despite the fact it isn't expressed often enough.

This 'n That

Most important ships during World War II were aircraft carriers. Japanese carrier planes attacked Pearl Harbor, and the first air raid on Japan was made by army bombers from the "Hornet." Carrier planes took part in every major naval battle in the Pacific during the war. The Battle of the Coral Sea in May of 1942 was the first naval engagement in history in which the opposing ships did not fire at each other.

One of the purest forms of iron in common use is wrought iron, which contains only a very small percentage of the carbon found in nearly all types of iron and steel. Wrought iron is tough, but rather soft and easily worked.

The huge Amazon River, in South America, drains an area three-fourths the size of the United States.

El Salvador, with an area of only 8,260 square miles, is the smallest of the twenty-one American republics. It is also one of the most densely populated countries in this hemisphere, with an average of about 303 persons per square mile.

Deputies, Police At Lisbon Solve 'Martians' Hoax

LISBON — Four Lisbon High School students kept village police and sheriff's deputies on the run Sunday night with a "man from Mars" telephone hoax before they were located by authorities, gives a warning and then taken home.

It all began at 11 last night when the sheriff's office received a frantic telephone call from two girls declaring that they had seen two men wearing trench coats and helmets and carrying rifles leading two other men in white along Route 164 near the Lisbon - Leetonia Rd. The two men carrying rifles were "from Mars," they said.

The sheriff's office had no deputies in the vicinity at the time, so Lisbon police hurried to the spot. They found nothing. Later, another call from an E. Chestnut St. resident reported a similar "Martian" incident.

In the meantime, deputies converged on the area, along with State Highway Patrol cars. Deputy Herman Wellmann located the four about 12:55 a. m. and took them home.

The U. S. national motto, "In God We Trust," became official on July 30, 1956, when President Eisenhower approved a joint resolution of Congress.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Thanks for straightening me out. I always thought Winston Churchill and the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur were great men but after reading the column in which you okayed the nutty theory that smoking to an adult is what a pacifier is to an infant I have changed my mind.

According to your theory, these men were actually grown-up babies.

The person who wrote said small children can suck their thumbs and drag a dirty blanket around but adults would be led off to the loony bin if they did such things, so smoking is their substitute.

It's difficult to understand how grown-up babies could become role leaders. Since you are so doggone smart I'd appreciate your explanation.

Thanks for reading this letter, which I'm sure will get no further than the wastebasket.—JHP OF RICHMOND.

Dear JHP: Mental capacity and leadership qualities do not equate with emotional stability. (Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, Castro.) Many leaders in the fields of science, art, medicine and finance were, and are, brilliant thinkers but at the personal level their lives were, and are, a mess.

History is replete with examples of accomplished people who were so poorly adjusted that they eventually killed themselves.

Dear Ann: That letter from the woman who was mad at her rich aunt who shopped in August for Christmas gifts and then ended up giving faded, shopworn, marked - down bargains made me laugh.

I have a friend who does something similar. It used to burn me up but after reading that letter I see the humor in my own situation and feel a great deal better about it.

My friend is a grand dame of considerable means. She no longer drives her own car so I frequently take her to the beauty shop, to club meetings and to church. Every Christmas it's the same old story. With tears in her eyes she says, "I love you too dearly to insult you with a commercial gift. I want you to have something of sentimental value."

She then hands me an old snuff box her grandfather used or a piece of needlepoint that has been sitting around for 105 years. Everyone of her gifts has gone into the attic or the trash can.

Your column is a great deal more than entertainment. It helps people get a fresh perspective. Thank you for it.—AVID FAN.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Freckle Fan

Dear Ann: Recently you printed a letter from a teenager who said she had a million freckles and hated every one of them. You told her about sandpaper surgery, warned against quacks and so on. Will you please print this letter and perhaps wake up some of these foolish kids?

What in the world is wrong with freckles? The lovely woman to whom I have been married for more than 15 years has a million freckles and I love every one of them. In fact, her freckles are what attracted me when we met at an Epworth League picnic 20 years ago.

Freckles are part of a girl's personality. They give her that natural, sun-kissed look. Freckles are wholesome, outdoorish, frank and honest. Any girl who would bleach a freckle, attempt to cover it with heavy makeup or, heaven forbid, resort to surgery, has rocks in her head.—VOICE OF DISSENT.

Dear Voice: Thanks for the greatest testimonial for freckles since Doris Day lugged her first million dollars to the bank. Several men (no women) wrote to express the same point of view but you did it more convincingly.

History is replete with examples of accomplished people who were so poorly adjusted that they eventually killed themselves.

Court Action Set Against Pickets At Space Center

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Court action was expected today in an effort to halt picketing which has stopped almost all construction at this space facility.

The Brotherhood of Maintenance Way Employees, one of 11 non-operating unions on strike against the Florida East Coast Railroad since Jan. 23, 1963, set up picket lines Monday to protest use of Florida East Coast rails to supply major contractors on the cape.

Honoring these lines, 3,445 of the 4,541 building trades workers left their jobs. Work was virtually stopped on the $100-million Saturn moon rocket complex, the Titan 3 project and the Kennedy Space Center headquarters.

A space agency spokesman said representatives of the National Labor Relations Board would confer today with a U.S. District Court judge at nearby Orlando. The court had ordered the rail unions to serve notice before picketing the space facilities. The spokesman said no notice was given Monday.

Evidence Due In Walker's Libel Suit

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Attorneys for former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker begin presenting evidence today in his $2-million libel suit against The Associated Press.

A jury of four women and eight men was selected Monday, clearing the way for presentation of evidence by the plaintiff. All 12 jurors must agree to any verdict returned to State District Court Judge Charles J. Murray in the civil suit.

The Associated Press, as defendant, will present its evidence after the plaintiff.

Walker, 54, contends Associated Press stories falsely accused him of leading a charge during the 1962 civil rights riot at the University of Mississippi in Oxford, Miss. Walker's chief attorney, Clyde Watts, Oklahoma City, said in his opening statement that Walker did not lead any charge, and did not assume command of the riot crowd.

"We are not trying a segregation or integration case," said J. A. Gooch, Associated Press attorney, in his opening statement. "We are trying the case of an individual trying to defy the courts and laws of this land."

The Associated Press answer to Walker's suit says assessment of any damages would be "a restraint on the freedom of press" as guaranteed by the U.S. and Texas constitutions.

Traced Hit-Skip Driver Fined $25

A Hookstown area driver whose car struck a parked car in Chester Friday, setting it ablaze, was fined $25 and costs Monday night by Mayor Harry Abrams.

Ernest Shenton, 40, was charged with leaving the scene of an accident by Patrolman Clifford Bebout.

Shenton's car struck the parked car of Mrs. Elizabeth Pryor of Carolina Ave., and the impact ignited her car.

Chester police investigated the hit-skip accident and learned that the car that fled was registered in Pennsylvania. Meanwhile, Shenton notified a relative of Mrs. Pryor that he was the driver, and surrendered voluntarily to Grant District Constable Harold Davis Saturday night.

Davis released Shenton on his own recognizance, and slated a hearing for Monday night. While driving through Chester Sunday, Shenton was halted as a suspect by Chester police, who then learned that the defendant had surrendered to Constable Davis. Davis turned over custody of Shenton to the patrolman Monday night and a charge of leaving the scene was filed.

Gov. Scranton Says Rights Issue Nears Violence Stage

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton contended today the nation's civil rights controversy is rapidly approaching a "violence situation."

The governor proposed at the National Governors' conference here that a "crash program in education be developed to offset the problem."

"It seems to me the frustration of the Negro has grown so rapidly that we are fast approaching a violence situation," Scranton declared.

He outlined for newsmen a proposal he said he would present today to a governors' conference meeting on civil rights in education.

Education is the one major civil rights area where a crash program could be carried out, said Scranton.

"I don't see how you can do it in employment," he said. "There just aren't enough jobs."

"The same applies in housing." A sudden rearrangement of housing would lead to friction and, I believe, a retrogressive reaction."

Turning to the field of education, Scranton said he thought a crash program may be possible. He said he hopes to get at least a pilot program underway in Pennsylvania next year.

He suggested that state, federal and local government join in selecting what he termed a medium-sized city.

"Then put the deprived population through a rapid educational screening—using schools at night, and in summers when they aren't needed for regular school purposes," he explained.

He said the results would show that the population probably would break down into three groups—Those capable of a technical, or a vocational or an elementary education.

Judge's Ruling Seen As Setback For Musmanno

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Judge Vincent A. Carroll, affirming a decision of the County Board of Elections, ruled Monday that votes cast in blank spaces can not be counted for either candidate in the Democratic senatorial primary of last April 28.

The ruling appeared to be a setback for State Supreme Court Justice Michael Musmanno, one of the candidates, whose supporters claim that many votes intended for him were mistakenly cast in blank spaces just below his name on the voting machines of 13 wards.

While granting that Musmanno's chief rival, State Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt, may also have lost votes that way, the Musmanno forces said Musmanno's loss must have been twice as heavy.

Miss Blatt leads in the statewide tally by some 600 votes.

Reported 'Out Of Danger'

Arias, Political Figure In Panama, Shot 3 Times

PANAMA (AP)—Roberto (Tito) Arias was given a chance to live today while police sought a disappointed party associate who pumped three bullets into the colorful, controversial politician.

Arias' wife, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, said in Bath, England, her brother-in-law, Harmodio Arias, telephoned her that her husband was "out of danger."

Dr. Antonio Gonzalez Revilla, who headed a team of neurosurgeons in a 2½-hour operation on Arias, said it would be 72 hours before he could say whether his 45-year-old patient would live or whether he would be paralyzed.

Police sought Alfredo Jimenez, a member of Arias' Panamanista party and an old friend as the gunman.

It was the second political shooting since Panama's national elections May 10.

Panama's U.N. ambassador, Aquilino Boyd, fired two shots May 21 at the editor of a newspaper which accused Boyd of election fraud. The editor, Escobalito Calvo, received a minor wound.

Arias was in surgery twice Monday night over a period of almost eight hours. First, doctors removed bullets from his right arm and his right side.

Most people don't realize how low Chrysler's new prices really are. Do you?

We find that many people think a Chrysler is a high-priced car.

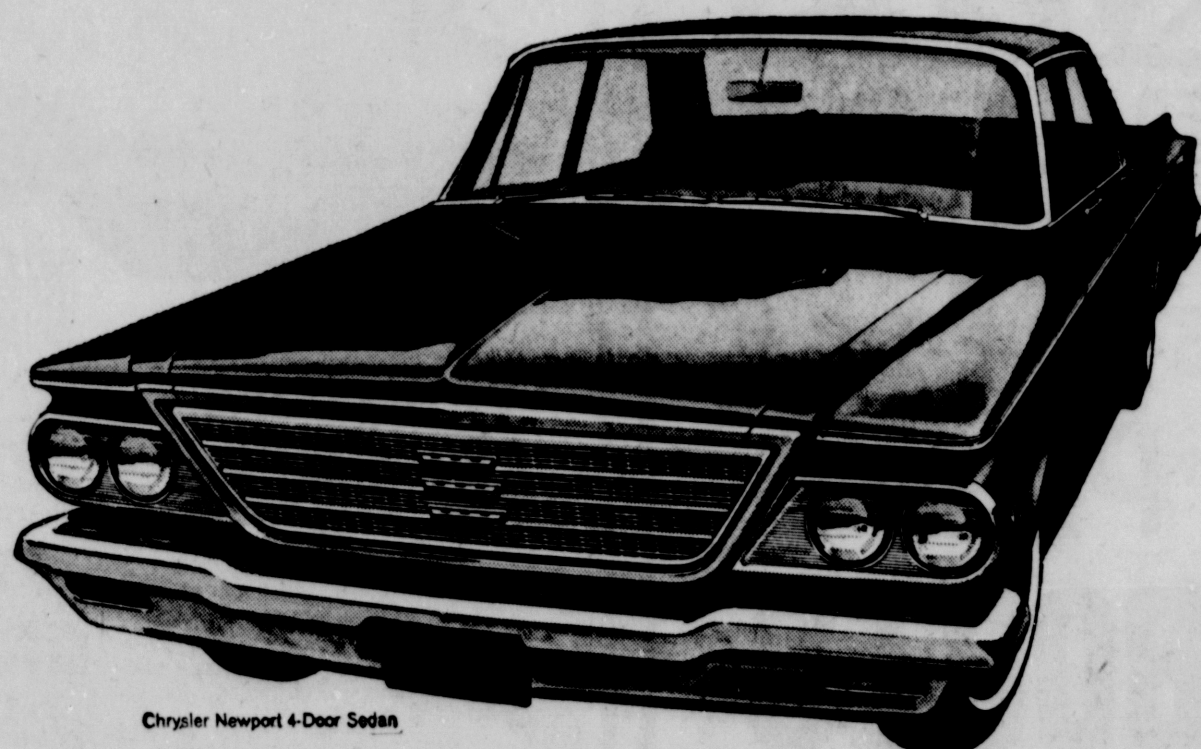

Quite frankly, some models are.

But what many people don't realize is that some Chrysler models are actually priced lower than a small car equipped the way you'd want it.

Take the Chrysler Newport sedan. Manufacturer's suggested retail price is only $2901, not including the variables like state and local taxes, destination charges and optional equipment. That's $2901—which includes such good things as a 361-cubic-inch V-8. The kind of engine you'd pay extra for on a smaller car.

Interesting, isn't it?

Then why stick with the smaller jobs? They can't muster the room, the ride, the luxury or the performance you really want—no matter how many extra-cost options you put on them.

Nominees Given Warning To File

With less than two weeks remaining before the deadline June 19, the County Election Board said today two Democrats and three Republicans who won nominations in the May 5 primaries have not filed sworn statements of receipts and expenses.

In addition, there are "quite a few" losing candidates who have not certified the statements, the board said.

Jurors Selected To Hear Suit For Injury Payment

LISBON — A jury was selected Monday in Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard's court to hear a civil action in which Donald F. Whitacre of Salem seeks to require the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation to pay further claims for an injury he alleges he suffered while at work in 1958.

Whitacre names as defendants the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. of Salem and James L. Young, as administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation. He alleges in his petition he was pulling a scrap tub across a floor at the Mullins plant on Jan. 13, 1958, when he suffered a severe back strain. He was paid temporary total disability and permanent partial disability allowances, plus money for medical care.

Whitacre filed another claim on Jan. 5, 1962, alleging that because of the injury he suffers tension headaches and a nervous condition. The Canton Regional Board of the state agency refused his claim on July 20, 1962, and the Industrial Commission refused to review the Canton Board's decision. In his newest action, he asks the Common Pleas Court jury to review his claim. Jurors are: Evelyn Copestick, Dorothy Shattenberg, Mildred Weston, Lena Nulph and C. E. Rudibaugh, East Liverpool; James Sample, Bruce Duncan and Carl W. Zimmerman, Salem; Beulah Goddard and Mabel Blazey, Salineville; Arthur Conrad of Columbiana, and Donald Morris of Lisbon. Ailing Child Reported Fair

An East End youngster was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital where he was rushed by police late Monday morning as his mother applied mouth-to-mouth respiration.

Richard Kohler, 4½-year-old son of Mrs. Diana Kohler, 1908 Michigan Ave., was taken to the hospital after a futile attempt to secure oxygen at the East End fire station.

Police received a call from firemen at 10:55 a. m. that a cruiser was needed to take an ill youngster to the hospital.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith said he found the boy in the arms of his mother who administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation as the officer drove to the hospital.

The mother told officers the child became ill and she and a neighbor started for the hospital. Believing the youngster had stopped breathing, they turned around at Boyce St. and raced back to the East End fire station to secure oxygen.

"To their dismay, they found the outlying fire stations do not have oxygen equipment," Officer Smith said.

Firemen explained that one resuscitator is kept on the emergency truck at Central Station so it can be rushed to the area where needed. Another is kept at the municipal swimming pool in Thompson Park during summer months in event of an emergency.

Boy's Jealousy Troubles Parents

Suppose your child at 5, 7 or 14, when angry at you, says, "I know you hate me." Of a boy, seven, his mother writes from Texas:

"He is a well-mannered child to other people and a way from home. He gets along well with his teacher, but is having trouble with his school. Dr. Garry Myers work. Our real problem is his jealousy of his younger brother, five, and his arrogant manner toward me and his father. He expects the world and its people to do the things he likes his way. He is very inconsiderate of our feelings as well as the feelings of his cousins."

"If I have to tell him several times before he picks up his toys, he will say, 'I know you hate me and wish I was dead, so I may as well kill myself.' He cries very easily and is very, very selfish about his belongings."

MY REPLY IN part.

I'm sure you repeat commands too often with that child and wait till you're mad before you do anything. When you make a command, say it just once calmly and clearly; then if it's not obeyed with reasonable promptness, assign that boy to sit unamused in a chair where you can see him for a definite time, say 25 minutes. If he leaves the chair too soon, paddle him. Be sure it hurts! Settle a few matters of control, then try to have good times with this lad.

You, the father and relatives and neighbors should build up this boy, emphasize his good traits and try to make him feel more worthwhile in the family group. It's obvious that he doesn't feel that he rates well in his family, but suppose his little brother is the only important child.

IT'S NOT strange that he says he hates you and would like to die. He probably feels that way. He also knows it makes you feel very bad. Act as if you don't hear such things, but strive to find ways to help this child feel more worthwhile. He must have a lot of good traits and ways you can build on.

My guess is that the biggest problem for you and the father is to both manage yourselves better to win his love and esteem. Anything you both can do to help your son enjoy more success at school learning, especially reading, should be very effective in improving his relations with the family at home.

I'll bet that boy is not as bad as you say he acts.

It's Fattening Practice To Overeat At Dinner

A homemaker laments that she gains weight on "just one decent meal a day." She writes: "I try going without food all day, but when I do eat I can't help but make up for all the food I've missed. Sometimes I eat so much at dinner that I actually hurt. I don't seem to have any resistance at all. Another thing, I can't seem to force myself to take any exercise. So I just keep getting fatter."

It seems to this dietitian that those who eat three moderate meals a day, and refrain from overeating at any one meal, have less trouble controlling their weight than those who "diet" all day.

THERE ARE two valid reasons for this: The body is a work machine, and too little food makes for lethargy and laziness. Sloth sets in. You simply do not feel like bestirring yourself when you have had no food.

Research studies have shown that overweight individuals tend to overeat at the evening meal. Aside from the fact that this is the least active part of the day, there is another, less understood, factor which makes overeating at dinner more fattening. To wit: When too much food is consumed at one time, the body is not able to cope with the overload through its conventional channels of burning food for energy. Nature is obliged to switch to another way of dealing with the excess fuel. In this process, which utilizes different chemical pathways, fat is built up as a by-product. When you overeat at dinner, the stage is set for turning the excess fuel in that meal into fat.

A doctor friend told me of a patient who failed to lose on 1000 calories a day, eaten mostly at dinner, but who lost two pounds a week on 1500 calories a day, equally divided into three meals.

ON THE more restricted diet, she felt too tired to move much... and so she just rested. During the day she had only coffee. Life wasn't much fun, and she failed to lose.

With all the emphasis on calories, we are apt to overlook the important fact that weight loss is determined by the difference between fuel requirements and fuel expended. On a low calorie diet plan that leaves you listless, you'll get diminished returns. Besides, who wants to feel lethargic and lacking in vigor?

Why not try the plan of allocating your food intake to the active part of the day? You may be pleasantly surprised to find you gain in vigor and lose excess weight. In fact, you may lick your weight problem by changing your pattern. Not hungry for breakfast? Skip dinner tonight. Tomorrow morning you'll relish food.

Salem Man Requests

Probation In Entering

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Monday ordered a probation investigation for George Manis, 49, of Salem, who pleaded guilty yesterday to an amended indictment alleging he burglarized Schaffer's Tavern in Salem on March 14.

Manis was indicted by the April Grand Jury about two months ago but a typing error in the indictment made it necessary for the panel to return a new indictment when it was recalled last Friday. Manis made a plea for probation in entering the guilty charge yesterday.

He originally was indicted along with Robert E. Wolfe, 40, also of Salem. Wolfe was given a 1-15-year sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary when he pleaded guilty and asked immediate sentencing.

Army Keeping Closer Tabs On Who Buys Surplus Guns

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

RIFLES: The Army is keeping closer tabs on who buys its surplus rifles.

The office which promotes civilian marksmanship has centralized a listing of persons who purchase the rifles from the Army and who belong to recognized rifle clubs.

Authorities denied Monday the move came as a result of President John F. Kennedy's assassination by a sniper using a surplus Italian army rifle.

They said the actions stemmed from an increased volume of inquiries about persons and clubs authorized to draw weapons and ammunition from Army stocks for target practice and competition.

Ohio Board Adopts New School Bus Buying Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education has officially adopted a new version of its centralized school bus purchasing plan.

The new plan, which would limit bus body and chassis buying by local school districts to low bid manufacturers, complies strictly with the Administrative Procedures Act.

It was adopted officially by the state board at its monthly meeting Monday on the advice of the attorney general's office.

The new plan replaces a previous one which did not comply with the Administrative Procedures Act and which was blocked by court actions filed by bus manufacturers.

The board also made preparations Monday for an anticipated two-day meeting here July 13-14, which will open with a public hearing on the board's centralized bus-buying plan.

In another major action Monday, the state board proposed two new school districts—one in Tuscarawas County and one in Hardin County.

The new district in Tuscarawas County would be composed of the existing Uhrichsville city, Dennison exempted village and Union local districts, to become a new city school district upon approval by voters in November.

The proposed local school district in Hardin County, also subject to voter approval, would be composed of the present Ada Exempted Village, Alger and McGuffey-McDonald local districts.

The state board said it will notify Lorain community and Cuyahoga County colleges they must secure state board approval before they can offer teacher training courses.

The board said the two colleges are offering some courses of this type, and Asst. State

Supt. of Schools Harold J. Bowlers said the two-year community colleges have no authority to provide such courses.

The board approved two territory transfers after hearing opposition from representatives of local groups and officials. Approved was the "country club area" transfer from Union-Scioto local in Ross County to the Chillicothe city district, and a 426-acre tract from Westerville Exempted Village to the Columbus city district.

Approved without opposition were transfers from Amherst to Lorain city and from Massillon to Perry local, Stark County.

Lisbon School Board Faces Varied Agenda

LISBON — A varied agenda awaits the Village Board of Education at a meeting tonight at 7:30, according to Supt. Oliver Payne.

Cornell Monda, psychologist, and Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge, a teacher, will discuss their duties and salaries with the board. Mrs. Ashbridge has submitted her resignation.

The board will discuss school bus rental payments; funds for purchase of new equipment for the physics laboratory; acquisition of a new copying machine; providing an educational service for teachers and renewing the board's subscription to the National School Public Relations Association.

Koufax Uncorks 4-Hitter In 100th Career Victory

Majors' RBI Lead Nailed By Wagner

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander who makes a habit of being stingy with base hits, took a swipe at a second straight no-hitter Monday night and for four innings of a 2-1 Dodger victory over Cincinnati, he had staticians scrambling for their record books.

Koufax retired the first 12 Reds he faced but No. 13, Deron Johnson, broke the spell with a home run. With the pressure off, Koufax gave up three more hits en route to his 100th career victory.

Sandy, whose third no-hitter came against Philadelphia last week, scored the tying run in the fifth when he forced Dick Tracewski who had walked, moved up on Maury Wills' single and scored on Willie Davis' hit.

John Roseboro doubled home Tommy Davis with two out in the sixth to win it.

The only pitcher ever to put together back-to-back no-hitters was Johnny VanderMeer, who did it in 1938.

And, interestingly, VanderMeer hurled for the Reds and pitched his second no-hitter against the Dodgers.

Elsewhere in Monday's abbreviated major league schedule, Milwaukee whipped Houston 5-3 as Hank Aaron tagged a two-run homer, Cleveland's Leon Wagner took the major league RBI lead with a two-run homer and a run-producing single as the Indians topped Los Angeles 6-3. Jim King smashed three home runs but Washington bowed to Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit outslugged Minnesota 10-5.

The St. Louis at San Francisco National League afternoon game was rained out.

Koufax, bringing his record to 7-4 with his third consecutive victory, also was touched for a ninth-inning single by Johnson and two hits by Steve Boros. Boros beat out a bunt in the fifth and singled in the eighth.

Besides trying for a second straight no-hitter, Koufax also was trying to set a record by striking out 10 or more batters in a single game for the 55th time in his career. The record of 54 is shared by Bob Feller and Rube Waddell. Koufax, however, struck out only five.

Felipe Alou opened the Braves' first with a double. One out later, Aaron connected off Hal Brown, 1-6, and Milwaukee never trailed. Alou collected two doubles and Lee Maye also had two hits while Dave Roberts slammed two doubles and a single for the Colts.

Tony Cloninger, 4-5, got the victory but needed ninth-inning relief help when Houston pushed across two runs.

King's three-homer salvo and a pinch-hit homer by Don Zimmer all came with the bases empty. That left the Senators one run short.

The A's got a homer from Ed Charles in the first, then put it away with a four-run eighth-inning uprising. Rocky Colavito singled in two runs before George Alusik wrapped up the rally with a two-run homer. Moe Drabowsky got the victory, his first since April 25, and snapped a seven-game losing streak.

Wagner, who brought his RBI total to 46, and Bob Chance hit back-to-back homers in the eighth after singles by Joe Azcue and Dick Howser around a sacrifice had provided the tying run for the Indians. Chance's homer was his fourth in four games.

The Angels had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh, chasing rookie Sonny Siebert, who had a four-hit shutout through six innings.

Don Demeter hit a homer for the Tigers in the first. Then, after the Twins tied it 2-2, Norm Cash hit a three-run shot in the third and put Detroit ahead to stay.

Dave Wickersham, tagged for Harmon Killebrew's 16th homer, won his seventh game after failing on three previous tries, but needed Larry Sherry's relief help.

Dan Frasier, 21, Signed By Colts

Highly-pleased with the way he swung a bat in a brief try-out Friday night at Forbes Field, the Houston Colts have signed Dan Frasier, hard-hitting catcher from Hookstown.

Frasier, 21, was graduated from Geneva College Tuesday with a degree in business administration, received a bonus and a contract calling for $500 monthly while assigned to the Colt Rookie League at Cocoa Beach, Fla.

Frasier's sparkling play with the baseball team of Geneva College was brought to the attention of Colt officials by Hal Woodchick, a native of Monaca, and a try-out that included batting practice and catching followed when the Texas entry in the National League visited Forbes Field.

Frasier, 6-foot, 185 - pounder, hit opposing pitchers at a .414 clip in 16 games with Geneva College this year. Among his 24 hits were four home runs. He performs for New Brighton in the Beaver County League.

Frasier is to report to the Colt Rookie League in Florida about June 15. Delighted at inking a contract with a team like Houston where youngsters dot the ranks, Frasier said becoming a major leaguer is his ambition.

At Geneva, Frasier also played quarterback on the football team for three years and was team captain. He also starred in football at South Side High School from where he was graduated in 1960.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frasier of Hookstown.

Newell Pitcher Fans 15 For One-Hit Win

Ronnie Hepner of Newell was really "humming" in the South Side Hot Stove League Monday when he struck out 15 batters and surrendered only one hit in a 16-0 victory over the Hanover Reds. C. Reed was the loser.

Eddie Aschcroft of Shippingport was also steady on the mound in a 4-3 victory over Hookstown. He fanned 11. Steve Verzella was the loser. Larry Berger tripped for Shippingport, while L. Anderson had two hits for Hookstown.

Lawrenceville romped over Hanover Giants, 26-2, getting 21 hits. Jack Mumaw was the winner. Vic Reed socked two homers and a triple for Lawrenceville.

Most hits by two players on the same baseball team in the same season is a record 485. It was set in 1930 by New York Giant first baseman Bill Terry (254) and third baseman Fred Lindstrom (231).

Finley Buys Pitcher, 18, For 75,000

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Charles Finley has bought Catfish for $75,000. But then last week he paid the same amount for a Blue Moon. No, the owner of the Kansas City Athletics isn't about to spring some more gimmicks on the American League, he's merely indulging in baseball's battle of the dollar for the nation's top young prospects.

James (Catfish) Hunter, an 18-year-old pitcher from Hartford, N.C., was Finley's latest addition to his growing list of bonus babies. Last week, the A's signed another pitcher for a bonus in the $75,000 area, Johnny Lee (Blue Moon) Odum, a 19-year-old from Macon, Ga. Hunter was one of nine hopefuls signed by major league clubs Monday as the tempo began to build toward the usual series of $100,000 signings that follow college graduations in June.

Hunter, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound right-hander, pitched five shut-outs in the past two seasons with the Pergumans County High School team. In one 12-inning game this spring he struck out 29 batters. He has an over-all record of 26-2.

At the same time, the Cleveland Indians paid a reported $60,000 for infielder Ralph Michael Gagliano of Memphis, 17-year-old brother of Phil Gagliano, an infielder with the St. Louis Cardinals. The Indians said the younger Gagliano had been sought by 17 major league clubs.

The Minnesota Twins signed Eddie Hill, a right-handed pitcher from Bristol, Tenn., and Mickey Haiken, a shortstop from Twin Valley, Minn. They were in the $10,000-$20,000 range.

The New York Mets got the most, possibly for the least. Given modest outlays were Gary Haverly, a shortstop who graduated Pittsburgh State, Kan.; second baseman Dave Miller, out of Wake Forest; infielder Francis Raley, from Baltimore Junior College, and two pitchers, Ron Taylor, University of Houston, and James Bethke, Kansas City.

7 Errors Spoil Pitching Of Miles For Local Entry

Loose-fielding Friendly Bowling-Merchants of East Liverpool dropped a 5-0 decision to New Brighton despite effective pitching by righthander Jimmy Miles in the Beaver County League Monday night at New Brighton.

Miles allowed only three hits and fanned four batters, but a leaky infield helped New Brighton toward the shutout victory. The winning pitcher, Tunn, also allowed but three hits and registered 12 strikeouts. Friendly committed seven errors.

Hildebrand, Miles and Schuker got East Liverpool's hits. Dan Frasier had a single for New Brighton.

The local entry will host Aliquippa Wednesday night at 6 at Patterson Field.

82 At Detroit Seek 39 Berths In Open Classic

By The Associated Press

Five former Open champions and a fellow who has won everything else but, try to qualify today for the U.S. Open Golf Championship at Washington June 18-20.

The big show is at Detroit, where 82 players including most of the touring pros, shoot at 39 berths.

A total of 55 places will be up at four other sites in the sectional qualifying round.

Thirty-five golfers qualified Monday at eight courses. Among the successful players were Chick Harbert, former PGA champion, and tourists Bob Brue and Dean Refram. Colorful amateur Billy Joe Patton also made it, but he had to survive a sudden death extra hole.

Former PGA champion Paul Runyan and veteran Johnny

Bulla were among those who failed to qualify. Western Amateur champion Steve Oppermann also missed, and former Open champion Jack Fleck—who beat Ben Hogan in a storied playoff—did not try.

Hogan will not attempt to qualify, either. The four-time winner does not approve of being asked to qualify, with his record.

Sam Snead, attempting to make it to the championship for the 24th consecutive time, is among the name players at Detroit. Others are former Open champion Tommy Bolt, PGA champions Bob Rosburg, Jim Ferrier and Jerry Barber.

Tour regulars Bob Goalby, Johnny Pott, Art Wall, Joe Campbell, Gay Brewer, Tommy Aaron, Bobby Nichols, Ken Venturi, Doug Sanders, Rex Baxter and Phil Rodgers will also shoot at Detroit.

At New York, the field includes former Open champion Cary Middlecoff and former PGA champions Doug Ford, Vic Hebert and Jim Turnesa.

Open champions Ed Furgol and Lew Worsham and PGA champion Denny Shute play at Pittsburgh. PGA champion Chandler Harper is at Washington.

The 129 survivors of the sectional qualifying join 21 exempt players, including defender Julius Boros and big guns Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Bill Bisdorf, a Denver pro, posted the best sectional qualifying round Monday, when he shot 67-66-133, nine-under par on the Rolling Hills course in Denver.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Not all leaders are born

some are made

The rather handsome car above is what you might call a two-time winner. Dodge led the nation in percentage sales increase last year and continues to set and smash these lofty sales marks in 1964. It's also called a 1964 Dodge. Or the low-priced car that doesn't look like one or feel like one. People who have bought one, and who, incidentally, are trading in all kinds of other cars in record numbers, say they like: 1. The looks. 2. The roomy and rather pooh interiors. 3. The extra savings of its famous Slant Six.

4. The lively V8 that goes on regular gas. 5. The self-adjusting brakes and 32,000 mile interval between major grease jobs. 6. The solid way it's put together—with a fully unitized, rust-protected body. 7. The price (right with Ford and Chevy).

If these seem like pretty good reasons for buying a car, join the swinging trend-setters who are changing the look and feel of the low-price field. You'll find them at your Dependable Dodge Dealer's.

AFL Takes Step For Pension, Insurance Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—A pension and insurance plan covering players, coaches and trainers in the American Football League has been put in motion, Commissioner Joe Foss announced today.

Foss, after a meeting with Ralph Wilson, Buffalo Bills' owner and head of the league's insurance program, and Tom Addison, president of the AFL Association, said the group will meet with league attorneys next month to complete details.

The pension feature will cover all players, coaches and trainers with five years time and will be retroactive to 1960, the league's first year. The pension, which will be steadily increased in future years, presently assure the players $10 a month for each year of service.

Each player also will receive a life insurance policy of $12,000. The hospitalization plan will be on a 12-month basis for all players who survive the final squad cuts on Sept. 10.

Most of the money to pay the cost will come from receipts of the championship and All-Star games.

Firing Starts In British Amateur Golf

By JOHN FARROW
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 GANTON, England (AP)—It's like being in a Little America in Ganton these days.
 Step into the golf house of the club where the legendary Harry Vardon was pro in the 1890s and there's sure to be an accent of New York, Alabama or Virginia.

The occasion is the British Amateur Golf Championship, first played 79 years ago.

One-sixth of the field comes from the United States. Many of the American competitors have brought along their wives and friends.

On opening day Monday 22 Americans took their first shots at the title. Eleven survived and made the second round today.

Another 11 Americans who rested Monday, opened their campaigns today. The total field numbers just over 200.

Frank Stafaci, a 48-year old insurance man from Miami, Fla., and Jack Penrose, 50, of Philadelphia are the veterans of the American contingent.

Penrose is trying his hand in the British Amateur for the 10th time and will open his bid in a second-round match against M. D. Dawson of England. Penrose had a first-round bye.

Stafaci, competing in his ninth British championship, won his first-round match Monday.

Dale Morey, 44, former American Walker Cup player; George Blocker, 24-year old Army corporal, and Paul Coste, headmaster of an American servicemen's school in France, are rated among the strongest American contenders.

Europe Schools Play Few Sports, Bob Cousy Says

BOSTON (AP)—The Eastern European complaint about athletics is just the opposite from ours, says Bob Cousy. Everyone in Europe is physically fit but there are almost no sports played in the school system.

The retired basketball great reported today on the five-week tour he just completed with an fitness because only the varsity athletes are in top condition. "Over there it's the reverse. "There's almost no sports, it's all calisthenics and fitness. They can't afford wholesale equipment for one thing. The school work is longer and harder, too, so time is lacking. "Most of the players don't get acquainted with basketball until they are about 17. "What you don't know about car insurance can cost you money," says Nationwide

Nationwide Insurance reveals some little known facts to help you get better protection for less money — if you're a careful driver.

AMERICANS spend $6 billion a year on car insurance. Yet most people hardly know a thing about what they're buying.

Nationwide agents make a point of giving their customers all the facts, and we believe in doing the same thing in our advertising. Here are answers to some of the most often-asked questions about car insurance.

1. Will I get the same rates from all companies?
 No. You may be surprised to learn that there is a considerable difference between companies.

Some companies such as the Nationwide companies are much fussier than others about whom they insure. They accept only people with good driving records. As a result, they can charge less because they have fewer accident claims to pay.

If you're looking for car insurance, be sure to talk to a Nationwide man. There's a good chance he can offer a better deal on car insurance than his competition.

2. Are there different ways of figuring my rates? Yes. Few people realize there are two kinds of rating plans. They are "non-variable" and "variable."

"Non-variable" is the most popular kind. Your policy is based on flat rates which do not depend on your driving record.

"Variable" is the "merit-demerit" plan. The more accidents you have, the higher your rates. The fewer accidents, the lower your rates.

Here in Ohio, the Nationwide companies sell both kinds.

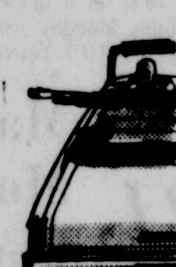

3. Why do men under 25 pay such high rates? Drivers in this age group have a much higher percentage of accidents than drivers in any other age group. And these young drivers have worse accidents, too.

Note: Nationwide knows that not all males under 25 are careless drivers. We were the first insurance company to offer lower rates to young men who complete a qualified driver training course.

4. What factors besides age affect rates? Several. The year of your car. Your occupation. The size of your town. How much you use your car. These things all count.

Keep your agent up-to-date on all points. For example, be sure to tell him if you move. Many people don't, and are paying a lot more than they should for car insurance.

5. Can a careful driver save money? Yes. A person with a good driving record can almost always qualify for insurance with a company like Nationwide. Nationwide can save a careful driver as much as $40 a year, or more.

6. How do companies decide who's a careful driver? As yet no company has come up with a foolproof way of deciding. However, we are finding that careful drivers have certain things in common. For instance, they drive less than 20 miles to and from work. They've been in the same line of work for the past five years. And they're married.

Some of these things may not seem to have much to do with how well you drive, but we find they go together with an accident-free driving record.

7. Do women drivers pay less than men? Women over 25 pay the same as men. Women under 25 pay anywhere from 10 to 63 percent less than men in this age group. The reason? Young women have fewer accidents than young men. Our records prove it!

8. Why have my rates gone up even though I've never had an accident? Because insurance companies are paying out more money in claims than ever before. How come? There are more cars on the road than ever before (about 22 cars for every mile of road). There are more accidents per 100 cars. Cars cost more to repair. Juries are awarding bigger settlements.

As long as insurance companies have to pay out more, they have to take in more. Result: you pay higher rates.

9. What if I'm hit by a driver with no insurance? You can now buy insurance that will protect you if this happens. It's called Uninsured Motorists Coverage. You can add this protection to a Nationwide policy for just a few dollars.

10. Do some insurance companies offer faster claim service than others? Yes. But most companies today offer excellent claim service. They have to or they wouldn't stay in business.

Nationwide is the second largest mutual car insurer in the world. We think one reason we've gotten so big is that we pay over half of all our claims within 24 hours after proof of loss. Nearly two-thirds of all claims within 72 hours.

Amazing record for fast claim settlement
 We believe our Nationwide drive-in claims station in Columbus holds the world record for fast payment.
 A man driving in for a damage estimate misjudged the distance between his car and our doorway. The result: a fresh crease in his fender.
 Time between accident and payment—four minutes.

11. Do all insurance companies have drive-in claims stations? No. Only a few. Nationwide introduced the country's first drive-in claims station in 1954. We now have them in 48 cities. They are saving people time and trouble.

12. Can I lower my rates? There's a good chance you can. Here are some things you can do:

► Take a larger deductible amount on your collision coverage. This will lower your premium. Example: collision coverage with $100 deductible may cost you 25 to 30 percent less than the same coverage with $50 deductible.

► If you have a boy in high school who drives your car, enroll him in his school's driver training course. This may lower your liability rates 5 to 15 percent.

► If you own two cars, be sure they are both insured with the same company. You may get a discount. Nationwide generally offers a 10 percent discount for both cars.

► If you think you're a careful driver, and you have a good driving record, be sure to give Nationwide a try. You may find that we can save you some of your hard-earned money.

If you have any questions that are not answered in this advertisement, check the Yellow Pages for the number of a Nationwide agent.

He'll give you the same kind of no-nonsense answers that you've been reading here.

German Charged With Negligence In Skiers' Deaths

CHUR, Switzerland (AP)—The state prosecutor's office at Grison filed a charge of homicide by negligence Monday against German skier Willy Bogner Jr. in the avalanche deaths of Olympic ski stars Wallace (Bud) Werner and Barbi Henneberger last April 12.

Werner, of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Miss Henneberger, of Munich, were killed by an avalanche near St. Moritz during the shooting of a documentary film under Bogner's direction.

After a two-month investigation, Grison authorities alleged that Bogner was criminally negligent in allowing Werner and Miss Henneberger to ski across an avalanche-threatened slope despite official danger warnings.

Bogner at the time denied any prior knowledge of an avalanche warning.

Wallack, Tribe Publicity Head, To Quit July 1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Nate Wallack, public relations director for the Cleveland Indians the last 12 years, says he's quitting his job, effective July 1.

Wallack announced his resignation at Monday night's baseball game between Cleveland and Los Angeles.

He described his departure as friendly and gave reporters a definite "no" to questions whether his decision might mean the Tribe is moving to another city next season. Club officials continually have denied such rumors. The 51-year-old Wallack said his plans are indefinite, but he hopes to have an announcement in two or three weeks.

Hutchinson Checked And Then Joins Team

SEATTLE (AP)—Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was given a checkup of a cancerous growth in his chest Monday and headed for Los Angeles today to join his team.

Just before the examination, he said the outcome of the examination would decide whether he could rejoin the Reds or had to stay in Seattle a while.

He said he felt about the same as he did after receiving massive radiation treatment for five weeks early this year in Swedish Hospital's Tumor Institute in Seattle.

Dr. Orville Wildermuth, head of the Tumor Institute, said he considered Fred's examination a routine checkup.

Alabama U. Now Has 3 Negroes Registered

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Segregation barriers at the University of Alabama, where Gov. George C. Wallace staged his brief "schoolhouse door" stand last year, have been lowered further.

The school now has three Negro women registered for summer session classes. Vivian Malone of Mobile, one of the two Negroes admitted under federal court order in June 1963, has been joined by Ruth Benella Lewis of Birmingham and Velma Thompson, a Tuscaloosa high school teacher.

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Thompson are taking graduate work.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, June 9, the 161st day of 1964. There are 205 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1772 occurred one of the first acts of resistance to British authority before the revolution when the armed English vessel Gaspee ran aground in Narragansett Bay and was burned by an American boarding party.

On this date

In 1791, the author of "Home, Sweet Home," John Howard Payne, was born in New York City.

In 1940, the Norwegian Army surrendered to the Germans in World War II.

In 1942, a combined Production and Resources Board was set up by the United States and Britain to help the World War II cause.

In 1945, Japanese Premier Kantaro Suzuki announced that Japan would fight to the last.

In 1946, the king of Siam was found dead of a bullet wound.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAND AND SURF

QUESTION: How are sandbars made?

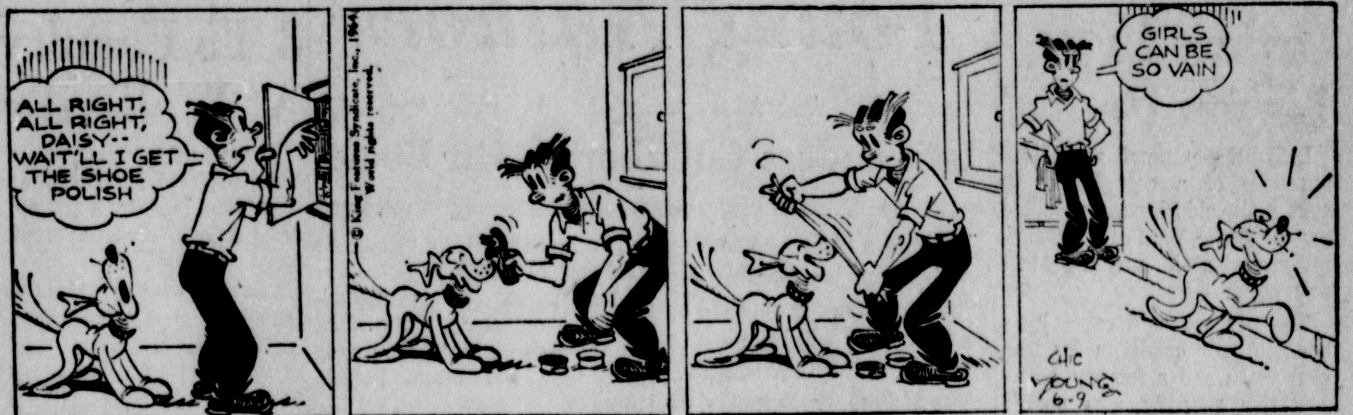

ANSWER: Sandbars are caused by currents of water which carry sand and debris and deposit it, usually in long narrow banks or spits. Such sandbars may be caused by river currents or the action of ocean waves. They may be under the surface or exposed by the piling up of the sand during gales or by lowering of the water level.

Cape Cod, on the eastern shore of Massachusetts, is a striking example of sand bars and spits created through wave action. Originally, the outer shore of the Cape was curving and uneven. But as mighty ocean waves came roaring in the protruding bumps of the shore line were levelled off and the arm of the Cape cut down to a smooth line. Currents swept both northward and southward along this outer shore, carrying great quantities of sand. As the force of the current slackened toward the northern part, the sand dropped down and was deposited in long bars underwater. More and more sand built them up until at last they appeared above the surface, and so the "hand" of Cape Cod's "arm" appeared above the water, with currents still sweeping around and building it up spirally. The long southern spit was made the same way.

FOR YOU TO DO: The pointed sandspit on which the gulls are sitting is the extreme end of the part of the Cape built up from the sea; you are looking across Provincetown harbor. What great event in the Pilgrim story happened in this historic harbor?

Chlorinator Ordered For Lisbon Pool

LISBON — Council authorized purchase of a new Fisher & Porter Co. chlorinating machine for the Sadie VanFossan Swimming Pool at its meeting Monday night.

The present equipment has been in poor condition for several years and a factory representative recently was unable to get it into operating condition. The pool opened Sunday.

The cost will be $400, plus $100 for installation, and council hopes for immediate delivery from the Pittsburgh Pool Service.

Council transferred $500 from the general fund to cover the costs of the equipment.

At present, the pool staff is using chlorine in bulk, putting it in the water by hand.

Council discussed the volunteer firemen's report showing they spent $1,358 on fire calls for the first six months. The average in previous periods has been between $700 and $800 and Council will hold a special meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. with the fire department officers.

A breakdown lists 23 firemen receiving $983.12 with 13 others getting $255 for ambulance calls and $120 listed as maintenance.

Mayor Dean Stockman appointed Ray Dixon, Fred Steele and Clyde Pike to check operations of the department and its working conditions.

Mayor Stockman also appointed Pike, Dixon and Robert Kelm, along with Solicitor Joseph Baronzi, to study the new Ohio Edison Co. contract which was presented to Council recently by Deane Beck, Salem area manager for the utility. The village contract expires Jan. 1, 1965.

Mayor Stockman said Harry Babel, custodian of the village and Center Township dump, has resigned and will be replaced by Earl O'Connell beginning June 16.

Wendell Cole asked Council to consider oiling alleys again this year, and said he would furnish equipment and oil and spread it for 12 cents per gallon. Council advised him it expects to use a hot oil this year but would consider his offer.

Tom Dubberly and Tom Muschweck of East Liverpool, operating the Tree Trimming & Stump Removing Service, were authorized to remove three stumps on the Public Square at $15 each.

A hearing on the proposed closing of the Leetonia and Canfield freight stations of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the Village Hall by representatives of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Lisbon's freight office closing has been continued indefinitely to allow representatives of railroad and village to discuss the situation further before a PUCC hearing.

Bills of $5,632 were ordered paid. Next meeting is July 13 at 7:30 p. m.

First A-Powered Ship Sails On First Voyage

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's first atom-powered merchant ship has sailed on its first transatlantic voyage.

The nuclear ship Savannah left Monday for Bremerhaven, Germany, with 289 tons of general cargo, 6,000 bags of mail and 13 paying passengers. She has accommodations for 60. Non-paying travelers and nuclear ship trainees filled the remaining berths.

The crossing is expected to take 10 days.

Two Texans Charged In $4 Million Fraud

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Marion E. Barnett and Charles L. Gouse of Dallas have been charged with obtaining more than $4 million through fraud and untrue statements by allegedly selling interest in oil and gas leases in eight states, including Ohio, to some 1,600 investors.

Also charged in the 32-count indictment were Admiral Oils, Inc., an Oklahoma City firm now being reorganized under the Bankruptcy Act, and Arrowhead Oil and Gas, Inc., Dallas.

125 At Church Event At Hammondsville

HAMMONDSVILLE — Some 125 attended the Singspiration held Sunday night at the Grants Hill United Presbyterian Church.

Participating were choirs from the Yellow Creek Presbyterian, Bethel Presbyterian, Highlandtown Methodist and the Hammondsville Methodist Churches.

The Rev. James O. McCollam, former pastor, was speaker.

Young Authors

1st Graders Collaborate On Book

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a new book on the market today at the University of Chicago, but the 26 authors will have a problem signing the first editions.

The authors, first graders, are still learning how to print their names.

The 26 precocious members of Mrs. Judy Jones' first-grade class at the university's laboratory school decided in November that along with learning to read books, they'd like to write and publish one.

After seven months of almost daily work, 150 copies of the gaily colored, magazine-size book, entitled "Interesting Stories," rolled off the press two weeks ago.

Proud parents snatched them up. The book is now headed for a second printing.

"All schools and classrooms are concerned with writing and reading stories," said Mrs. Jones, 27. "We just took ours a little farther."

The students collaborated in writing and illustrating five stories for the book, ranging from "Julie and Jane's Adventures in School" to "How We Got Our Freedom."

Another story tells of the adventures of Sammy, who lived on the moon "in a big crater that they had made tunnels through."

The stories were dictated to Mrs. Jones, who said the idea behind the book came from Mrs. Farrand Ennis, whose daughter is in the class.

"The purpose of the project was to expose the children to the experience of learning how books are produced," said Mrs. Ennis, who works for a neighborhood newspaper, the Hyde Park Herald.

Mrs. Ennis told Don McCabe, design editor of the newspaper, of the project and he volunteered to help ready the book for publication.

But if life seems complicated for McCabe, author Sarah Ennis, 6, takes it in stride.

"It's just make believe," she told The Associated Press. "The whole thing's just make believe."

Author Jeff Johnston, 7, said what he liked best was "when I was asked to put autographs in the books."

Guild Honors Picket Lines

TV And Radio 'Beef Up' In Newspapers' Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most of the television and radio stations in Ohio's capital city were beefing up their news coverage today to compensate for the loss of Columbus' two strike-bound newspapers.

As the strike against the Dispatch Printing Co., which prints the morning Citizen-Journal and the afternoon Dispatch, went into its second day, the city's electronic media was adding numerous newscasts and expanding present ones.

The strike began at 5 a.m. Monday when the printers' and mailers' unions set up picket lines around the Dispatch Building.

Shortly afterwards, the Dispatch announced it was suspending publication, and the Citizen-Journal, a Scripps-Howard paper, followed suit later in the day after publishing its Monday morning edition.

The Dispatch has a circulation of 200,000 daily and 300,000 Sunday, while the Citizen-Journal's six-day-week circulation is 100,000.

Columbus, with nearly 500,000 people, is Ohio's second largest city in population and the largest in the state in area.

In addition to the walkout by members of the Columbus Typographical Union No. 5 and the Columbus Mailers Union No. 103, the Columbus Newspaper Guild, after an overwhelming vote of approval, announced its members would honor the picket lines.

The Guild, a spokesman said, has approximately 169 members in the editorial unit of the Citizen-Journal and the circulation department of the Dispatch.

Dispatch editorial employees are not affiliated with a union and were on the job Monday.

At Governors' Conference

Lausche Wishes Johnson Was Tonight's Speaker

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio will give the main address of the Governors' Conference at a formal dinner tonight but he wishes it were President Lyndon B. Johnson instead.

Before leaving Washington for Cleveland, where he formerly was judge and mayor, Lausche said he called the White House to urge that the President reconsider and visit the conference.

"He would do me a serious favor by relieving me of making the talk," Lausche said he told a White House aide who took the call.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, conference host, drafted Lausche for the top spot on the five-day program after receiving word that the President could not attend.

Rhodes, a Republican, has expressed admiration for Lausche's campaign technique since his unsuccessful attempt in 1954 to oust the Democratic governor.

Lausche's selection as the main speaker brought some grumbling at the conference, where Democratic state and territorial governors outnumber Republicans 38 to 16, because of his political independence and WBNS-Radio told the Associated Press it was adding a half-hour newscast at 8:30 p.m. to broadcast vital statistics and women's notices. A spokesman said the extra show would continue during the duration of the strike and that more additions are possible.

WBNS-TV said it was expanding its usual 15 minute broadcasts to 30 minutes.

WLW C-TV said it was adding eight newscasts throughout the day, ranging in length from two to 30 minutes, in addition to its regular newscasts. Two of the added programs are network news, the rest local, beginning at 6:45 a.m. and ending at 1 a.m.

WMNI radio, which broadcasts two five-minute news programs an hour, and WCOR radio, with five-minute newscasts every hour, said they planned no expanded programming.

The mailers' and printers' contracts with the Dispatch Printing Co. expired Jan. 2, but employees remained on their jobs during negotiations.

Both unions, with a total membership of 494, are a part of the International Typographical Union.

Union officials said their members decided to strike because of dissatisfaction with progress of negotiations.

Among the points at issue is a new pension plan.

The management said in a statement that it has "offered both unions a substantial wage increase plus benefits."

No negotiations currently are scheduled, but Federal Mediator George Bell said he would try to arrange meetings with the unions and management in the next few days.

repeated national administration criticism.

While Rhodes kept to the sidelines as much as his role of host permitted, Lausche, a former conference chairman, spoke out for government economy at a session on federal-state relations.

He warned of possible state destruction at federal hands.

"We can destroy this system without knowing what we are doing through constant encroachment" on rights of the states, he asserted.

Federal aid is decied, not only by public officials but by business—until that particular business becomes a beneficiary."

While some see federal aid as a painless path to progress, Lausche pointed out, debts have to be paid.

"We are building up a debt with built-in programs of expenditures that our children will have to pay for in the future," he said. "Federal grants may look good in the beginning but eventually they will have to be paid."

South Arabia's 750 miles of coastline are washed by the tepid waters of the Arabian Sea and the Gulf of Aden.

Board Hires 3 To Faculty At Wellsville

Three new teachers were hired by the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night and the resignations of five employees were accepted.

David McCoy was hired as an industrial arts instructor in the high school. He is a graduate of Salem (W. Va.) College. The board has had difficulty in locating an instructor.

Mrs. Gladys Kozora was employed as an elementary teacher and Mrs. Lillian Wellington was hired to serve as kindergarten teacher at Garfield.

Miss Elvada Marshall, high school Latin and English teacher, submitted her resignation. She is retiring.

Miss Kay Trapnell resigned as kindergarten teacher at Garfield. She is to be married.

The board also accepted resignations from Mrs. Marie Walker, head cook at the high school cafeteria; Charles Potts, Fairview custodian, and Joseph Mayhew, high school guidance counselor.

John Carter was named to coach seventh and eighth grade football, succeeding Ross Nelson as assistant junior high coach.

Mrs. Sandra Miller, secretary in the principal's office at MacDonald School, was granted a leave of absence. Her replacement will be hired on a temporary basis and will be paid an hourly rate.

Charles McMillen was assigned to serve as detention room supervisor for a half hour each morning.

Mrs. Helen Welch explained to the board that the Student Council will defray the expenses involved in the Dr. G. W. McMillen Award to be presented each year. The first was given last month to Earl Bake, former board president.

Earl Mundy, supervisor of custodians, reported on the summer cleaning and repair program.

New pipe will be installed for the water fountains in the high school.

Supt. Lowell Myers said the projected enrollment for the coming term is 1,908. The total enrollment Oct. 1, 1963, was 1,841.

The Senior Class will install a new public address system in the high school auditorium, which is being renovated. The system will cost about $600.

The annual reports were read from the offices of the high school library and school nurse.

Supt. Myers turned over $329.91 to Raymond Rolley, clerk, in money collected for supplies and rental fees.

Rolley gave the financial report, showing balances of $157,532, bank; $105,047, general; $38,729, bond retirement; $9,159, Title III, and $4,595, cafeteria.

Judge Takes Permits Of 2 For Speeding

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today decreed 20-day suspensions in the driver's permits of two East Liverpool men who were cited by the State Highway Patrol early Sunday on charges of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville "super-road."

Guilty pleas were entered by both defendants — David A. Hoffman, 18, of Post Office Box 558 and Raymond L. Landfried, 400 Walters St. The patrol said they were cited at 12:50 a. m. Sunday. The court ordered both to pay the costs in the cases.

Two others were fined on patrol charges and a third forfeited an appearance bond.

Karl F. Haight, 29, of 507 W. 9th St. was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge he crashed a stop sign at the junction of Routes 170 and 30. He was cited Sunday at 10:50 p. m.

John David Neer, 23, of 140 W. 4th St., drew a fine of $10 and costs on a charge he passed another auto over a yellow line on Route 30 at Cannons Mills. He was cited at 11:55 p. m. Sunday. Neer also pleaded guilty.

Arley W. Louk of Girard's Fort, Pa., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of passing at the approach to a hillcrest. He was cited Monday at 10:40 p. m., the patrol said.

At the request of the complaining witness, Judge Chertoff dismissed an affidavit in which Kenneth Page, 965 Ohio Ave., was charged with failure to halt for a stop sign May 24 at Palissey St. and Pennsylvania Ave. The charge was filed by Darrell Grimes of Wellsville. Page was represented by Atty. George A. Aronson.

Part Of Woman's Arm Found In Pit

TIPP CITY, Ohio (AP) — County officials were attempting today to solve the mystery of part of a woman's arm discovered in a gravel pit pool just east of here along Ohio 571.

The limb, discovered by a fisherman Monday night, apparently has been in the pit for some time, officials said. Officials dragged the pit Monday night in the hope of recovering the rest of the body, and intended to resume dragging today.
